FIRE BOYS APPRECIATE GIFT FOR THEIR WORK

Chief C. L. Pittman this afternoon expressed the appreciation of members of the local fire department for a gift of $25.00 made to them by Judge W. M. White. Judge and Mrs. White are very grateful to the department for its splendid service Saturday when their home burned.

Fire Wrecks Home of Judge White On North Canton Street Saturday; Fireman Injured Fighting Blaze

Late Saturday afternoon, fire of an unknown origin, broke out in an upstairs room of the home of Judge and Mrs. W. M. White, on North Canton Street. In the heart of a district wherein were located many handsome homes, had a wind been blowing the blaze no doubt would have been very dangerous. At it was the fire department was able to keep the fire confined to the one home.

At the time of the fire, Mrs. White was at the First Presbyterian church, where she was assisting in plans for the revival now in progress there. Judge White was in his office and no one was at home.

Two lines were laid and the pump put to work by the fire department, but the water supply was too weak to render effective aid in exterminating the blaze before the home was practically in ruins. The department was praised very highly for its splendid work, with the means and water at hand. One of the firemen, Frank Armstrong, was painfully burned, when a part of the roof fell on him. His co-workers, "Bugs" Thompson rushed to save him, risking his own life in the work, bodily lifted the roof off of him and other firemen assisted in carrying him to safety and to the kiddie ambulance which was on the scene by the time the injured man had touched the ground. He was carried to the Brown Hospital.

The home contained eleven rooms, halls, porches, two story in height. The day being calm, the smoke shot straight upwards.

Considerable furniture was saved, but many valuable articles were lost which can never be replaced. Judge White, in speaking of the loss, was more concerned over the destruction of portraits of deceased parents and children than anything else. He said that he had no way of replacing these.

The fire drew a large crowd, who

Mexia Rotary Club Brings Gifted Speaker To Mexia

Through the efforts of Hardy Eubanks, whose work was approved by the Board of Directors of the Mexia Rotary club, Mexia is next Thursday night to have an opportunity to hear one of the greatest lecturers in America. A contract has been made by the Mexia Rotary club to have him stop off here next Thursday, while he is en route from Houston to Dallas.

The speaker is Rotarian James Heron of Chicago, one of the foremost humorists of the day in this country and a speaker of such ability as to win the unstinted praise of his auditors wherever he goes.

He was speaker on three different occasions at the Wichita Falls District Convention of Rotary last week and won the hearts of Rotarians and their friends who had assembled for the convention from many states of the southwest.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nolan and I. W. Keyes, of this city, who were present with Mr. Eubanks at Wichita Falls, also heard him. They are elated to learn that he is going to be able to be in Mexia Thursday night.

Mr. Eubanks had a conference with Mr. Heron about coming to Mexia. It so happened that Thursday night was the only open date he has on his itinerary for many months and since he will be on his way from Houston to Dallas for an address Friday night at the latter place, it was possible for him to come to Mexia at that time. Mr. Eubanks invited him on the condition that the directors of the club here thought proper for him to deliver his address on that occasion. When the facts were explained to the directors, they unanimously agreed that it would not be right to allow the opportunity to pass without bringing this notable speaker with his soul stirring message to Mexia. It was a case of securing him now or not at all. So he will be here Thursday night. His address will be delivered at the High School auditorium, free to the public. The Mexia Rotary club has planned to take care of the expenses of his trip here and are to give the public the benefit of his message as a part of their educational program. The Nalrators club will be given honor seats in the auditorium and everybody is invited most cordially to hear this gifted speaker who will bring one of the most helpful messages the local citizenship has ever heard.

42 PROFESSIONS SUNDAY AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday was a banner day in the history of the Methodists of Mexia. The pastor, Rev. W. B. Andrews, devoted the morning hour to children. At the conclusion of the morning Sunday School lesson, they met in the auditorium of the church, where he told with beautiful simplicity the soul stirring story of the birth of Jesus and His death on the Cross. The young folks without doubt formed an attentive audience, as Rev. Andrews has ever addressed. At the conclusion of his sermon to them, 42 professions of faith were listed from their number.

In the afternoon, at 3:30, the evangelical committee held a meeting, planning for the revival which is to open in the church next Sunday morning. Rev. Andrews will do the preaching.

In the evening, at 8 o'clock, the pastor preached on the importance of children becoming Christians and joining the church early in life. The importance of proper training was illustrated by a reference to an address made in Mexia during the Federated Clubs convention, when it was stated by a speaker that of all the hundreds of prisoners in Texas venal institutions today, only one of them was a Jew. The speaker at the club assemblage explained that this was due to the home training and church training the Jew receives in childhood.

YONKERS, N. Y., April 7.—George Horozo, 18, picked the wrong man when he selected Michael Zevick, 19, as his first hold-up victim. Zevick took the highwayman's revolver away from him, boxed Horozo's ears and turned him over to a policeman.

YONKERS, N. Y., April 7.—A generous robber paid Herbert Miller his week's wages of $40 as a clerk in James Butler's grocery store after covering the clerk with a revolver and looting the till of $203.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Lewis Groner likes the windows wide open at night. George Miller thinks the fresh air ought to be kept outside. Groner and Miller, room-mates, argued the point with a revolver. Groner is seriously hurt and Miller is hunted by police.

SALVATION ARMY CORPS LOOKING FOR HOME FOR FINE BOY

The Salvation Army corps here report that they are looking for a good home for a splendid little four-year-old gentleman. His mother is not able to provide for him and the Salvationists are so anxious that a Christian home be provided for him as soon as possible. He is a very bright little fellow and with the proper home influences and aid, he, no doubt, will develop into a son of which any home would be proud.

Any interested will do a great service by getting in touch with the Mexia Salvation Army corps.

The Salvation Army conducts services each night on the streets and in the hall on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights at 8 o'clock, with Sunday services at 11 o'clock and Sunday School at 2:30 p. m. The corps is doing a wonderful work here, under the unselfish leadership of those in charge, reaching a class who otherwise might not hear the story of salvation, according to directors of the organization in Mexia. To these services, the public is cordially invited.

Round The World Flies Watching For Fair Times

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., April 7.—America's round the world airmen watched the weather today, eager to continue on to Sitka, Alaska, 320 miles to the northward when conditions looked favorable for the flight.

The four planes of the world flight squadron arrived here safely from Seattle Sunday afternoon six days behind the schedule originally planned at Santa Monica, Cal. Early Sunday morning repairs on the propeller of the huge Douglas cruiser piloted by Major Frederick L. Martin, the flight commander, were completed. Martin took the air at 8:35 Lieutenant Eric Nelson at 8:50 and Lieutenant Lowell Smith at 8:55. Lieutenant Wade, the fourth pilot, had difficulty in getting his plane up, but finally got way, after lightening it.

The flight to Prince Rupert was made through poor weather. It was uneventful, all arriving without difficulty.

OKLAHOMA SOLON TESTIFIES OF SCANDAL IN LAND

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Senator Harrell of Oklahoma told the Senate Daugherty committee that he took a hand in the Miller Brothers Oklahoma land fraud case to prevent a "scandal" when Attorney General Daugherty served notice in August, 1921, that he intended to remove H. M. Peck as United States district attorney in Oklahoma. Before the case came to trial Harrell said he went to Daugherty and told him a scandal would surely result as the case revolved around the alleged procurement by Miller Brothers of 10,000 acres of Indian land valued at $500,000 through fraudulent means.

Former Secretary of the Interior Fall called a halt on the prosecution of Miller Brothers in the Oklahoma land fraud cases in which they were involved, according to a letter introduced in the record of the Senate Daugherty committee, Edwin S. Booth, solicitor for the Interior Department, gave the committee a letter from Fall to Attorney General Daugherty, in which Fall asked a postponement of the action against Miller Brothers until a later term of the Oklahoma court. Two days later, according to testimony, H. M. Peck, then federal district attorney of Oklahoma was ordered by the Department of Justice to postpone the cases.

RIOT FOLLOWS TURNING OF HOSE ON KLANSMEN EN ROUTE TO TRAIN TWO PERSONS KILLED AS RESULT

Former Mexia Men Are Held In Fraud Case

According to press dispatches, charged with conspiracy to carry out a fraudulent scheme to sell stock in the Mogul Oil and Refining Company, capitalized at $1,000,000, five men are under arrest at Houston in connection with an indictment returned a week ago by the Federal grand jury. Four indictments alleging misuse of the mails were returned at the time, and this is the last to be made public. Arrests have already been made in the first three.

The five men arrested are W. M. Blake, president of the Mogul, arrested in Wichita Falls; J. M. Blake, Hunter Blake, H. Truysens and John Gibson. Bonds for Truysens and Gibson have been set at $5,000, for W. M. Blake $10,000, for J. M. Blake, and Hunter Blake $7500 each.

The indictment against the men alleges that they conspired to sell the stock through an agreement with a Chicago and New York brokerage company by the use of false statements.

LILLY, Pa., April 7.—State police today were in control of Lilly, following a revolver battle Saturday night between members of the Ku Klux Klan and town folk in which two men were killed and a score injured.

The riot started when a group of young men turned a fire hose on the Klansmen marching after a ceremonial at Lilly. The Klansmen opened fire on a crowd of by-standers, and it is alleged that the by-standers returned the fire.

When the water struck the marchers, it is alleged, members of the Klan drew revolvers and fired into the town folk.

Many of the townsfolk who were armed, returned the fire. The men on opposing sides who were unarmed used brick and stones for weapons.

At the first volley Phillip Conrad, 25, and Floyd Paul, 25, townfolk, were killed.

ELECTION BRINGS OUT LIGHT VOTE
Only a small vote was polled Saturday in the school board election, less than 100 going to the ballot box on that occasion. The four names printed on the ballot, old members of the board, were re-elected. They were Jack Womack, Albert Berry, R. E. Bass and David Murphy. These received all but a few votes that were given to several other citizens.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY CLUBS

Two years ago Judge Cordell Hull, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, had a wonderful vision of what must be done to bring Democratic victory in 1924. He knew we could carry the Nation in November if we made the right kind of fight, but to win on election day an effective organization would be necessary. To wait until after the National ticket had been named would be too late. He had learned from bitter experience that it is next to impossible for the Democrats to elect a President in a two months' campaign. To perfect such an organization required not only hard work, but money and the wolf was at the door of the Democratic National Committee. All that the Chairman had was the "will" which said to him "keep on."

One day, when things looked darkest, a letter came from an old friend up in the mountains of Tennessee which read as follows:

"Dear Cordell: All of us down here are mighty proud to know you are Chairman of the National Committee, and we feel that we will elect a Democrat for President in 1924. I want you to take the enclosed $5 and use every cent of it if necessary. There are a lot more down here who will give $5 too if you need it."

Chairman Hull wired his old mountain friend: "Organize your neighbors into a Democratic Victory Club."

In two weeks' time he received $95 from 19 other Democrats who contributed $5 each. This is how the "National Democratic Victory Club" idea originated.

Today there are Victory Clubs in thirty states. Each member pays $5 dues. The money is being used for a comprehensive campaign of education and organization throughout the country.

It is the intention of the national headquarters to keep in touch with the Victory Club members, supplying them individually with up-to-date political facts and literature. Chairman Hull has other plans, not yet thoroughly worked out, by which he expects to cooperate with and use the organization. He believes that a Democrat can do his party no greater service than to join a Victory Club and make it possible for us to say truthfully that the party of the people is sustained by the people and not by privileged interests.

Dr. R. B. Jackson is President of the Victory Club in Mexia and he invites all good Democrats who want to have a part in and invest as much as $5 in national Democratic victory to communicate with him. Later on the full roster of the organization will be given.

AMERICANIZATION APPLIED

By MRS ALEXANDER L. ADAMS (Before Third District Federation Convention).

The magnitude of the term "Americanization" was not fully appreciated, nor the necessity of its real meaning fully established in the minds and hearts of Americans, was not so keenly felt until that great catastrophe, the World War, brought forward realization of the fact that Americans had been so little concerned in the foreigner within our gates that numbers of men had lived in our America for half a century without citizenship. Until the War it had seemed sufficient to teach respect for the flag, to have a few addresses of a patriotic nature on Fourth of July and Election year—perhaps. But during and since the war concerted effort has been made along all lines of citizenship.

The Division of Americanization of which I am chairman in Texas, was established in National Federation in 1920. We feel the first thing necessary is to sell America to Americans. Our citizenship should mean so much to native Americans that our foreigners shall feel that "that is the kind of American I wish to be." They come to us with anticipations of the freedom, the opportunities of our country. They find us so indifferent that they lose their enthusiasm, segregate themselves in communities, and lapse into their former lives. We have ourselves only to blame for the attitude of our foreign born. And our first duty to ourselves and to them is proper immigration laws, and then proper enforcement.

Observing July the Fourth, the Citizenship Day which was established

Through A Woman's Eyes

A woman is only as old as she looks but a man is old when he stops looking, laughingly said Edna Wallace Hopper, world famous actress speaking recently on the wonderful system of rejuvenation which at a grandmother's age has restored her to the beauty and charm of a girl of 20.
"A fountain of youth such as Ponce De Leon never dreamed of is at the command of every woman of advanced years," according to Miss Hopper.
"The recent famous film of rejuvenation 'Black Oxen' is not overdrawn. Women of 60 or even more advanced years can now be as youthful and charming as they were at twenty. Women who have lost interest in life, as well as those whose husband's love has wandered to more youthful and charming women, can now regain both by the new method of rejuvenation.
"Today I am the living exponent of rejuvenation. I have the pleasure of being thought at least 20. I am still at the height of my career playing young girl parts. School boys flirt with me on the street and I feel and look as young as when David Belasco made me a star at the age of 18, and that was many years ago.
"Most women of advanced years have a far better chance of doing what I have done. I have traveled constantly all my life. Most women enjoy the secluded atmosphere of home life. They can better take the means to regain their youthful charm than one who lives on trains and in hotels.
"There is no need for mature women now to envy youth and beauty. There are now at her command. She can now contend with her granddaughter for the interest and admiration of any man. We are living in an age of marvels but the greatest of all is woman's ability to be forever young and beautiful."

CAUSE AND EFFECT

(To my friend, Ben Hunt, the following lines are affectionately dedicated.)
There is a young man in Mexia,
Poetically inclined, I hear;
When the grass peeps out and wild onions sprout
He invites the muse to appear
And attune his musical ear
To ginging of words with songs of the birds,
Truly harmonious to hear.
Now I've heard it expressed before
That when eagles begin to soar
Bats, owls and things should fold their wings
And hide till the soaring is o'er,
But the air's so balmy and clear
I'll suppress all feeling of fear,
Take one little whirl, announce to the world
The few following words of cheer:
Both far and near we daily hear
Challenges of old chancielear,
Sending his warning at dawn of the morning
To others who would interfere,
Birds are warbling, the gobblers are gobbling,
All the trees are donning their green,
All Nature's "tuned in" with this cheerful din;
No doubt something's happened I wean.
What's the matter with the poet?
It is something, and you know it.
Reasons he's so jolly ('tis plain, by golly),
Are var'd, numerous, yes many,
But the prime cause is plain; hear the refrain:
"Spring time has come, gentle Annie!"

The Art Of Beauty
By B. M. DOUGLAS

The Sparkling Blonde

THE blonde type is the active type, say anthropological experts. The blonde Roosevelt is the go-getter of the world. They are not the somber introspective, nor the languorous sensuous beauties that one finds among the dark haired types. And—their gay electric charm proves irresistible to men of many moods and types. The active blonde will cut her hair according to the latest whim of fashion. She will fluff it out because it is as active as she is. Her skin is dazzlingly brilliant and to blend with it she finds the naturelle shade of powder most suitable. She uses Mandarine with its orange tone to give a piquant color to her cheeks and bring a sparkle to the high powdered beam of her eyes. Her lips, small and well turned she emphasizes with a matching lipstick. Her clothes can be extreme. Whatever type she chooses, she may wear the extreme manifestation of it. If she wears a period frock of the Renaissance period, it may be more elaborately decorated than others; if she chooses to dine in a sheathed Egyptian gown, it can be straighter in line and more vividly colored than her more statuesque sisters dare to wear. She is the spoiled child of the fashion world; because her coloring is so dazzling that she dominates her gowns and is never submerged by them.
The sparkling blonde is a modern incarnation of those fascinating French beauties who live today only in the pages of musty chronicles—and yet whose names still have the power to conjure up a vision of their charms—Madame Lescaut, Gabrielle d'Estrees, Madame Recamier, whose allure was not so much in the regularity of their features, as in the radiant delicacy of their complexions, their exquisite daintiness, and the magnetism which radiated from them. But—and how simple life would be if it were not for that little word, by the same token the sparkling blonde must be scrupulously careful about the cosmetics which she uses that these be delicately and carefully made. She will do her beauty shopping carefully and with discrimination. She will choose, for instance, French hand made powders and rouges, because she knows that they are free from grit or roughness and much more delicately blended and perfumed than the machine made compacts. In a word, in all her adjuncts to beauty, she chooses the best, and uses it with a deft light touch. The "scrubbing" with a powder rag or puff adopted by some women is not for the sparkling blonde if she desires to preserve the delicate transparency of her skin.

BURKETT SPEAKING IN CITY POSTPONED

Senator Joe Burkett will not be here tonight. This announcement was made to The News this morning by telephone from Senator W. E. Doyle of Teague. Mr. Doyle stated that Mr. Burkett would speak at Fairfield today and would make arrangements to deliver an address in Mexia at some later date. Mr. Burkett is one of ten candidates for Governor of Texas, whose candidacy will be submitted to the Democratic primaries.

AUXILIARY TO SERVE LEGION TUESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Z. Rochelle, president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Nowlin Post of the American Legion, states that the Auxiliary will serve the regular weekly dinner to the Post Tuesday evening at 7:30. The meeting of last week was called off on account of the Federated club meeting here. It is hoped that a large attendance will be present at Nowlin hall.

The host of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Jordan of this city will be so glad to learn that she is getting along nicely at present and general hope prevails that she will soon be out again. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan have the sympathy of the entire community in their recent great bereavement when they sustained the loss of their week old infant son, Roy, Jr. Every effort was made to keep the little flower blooming in the garden of child life, but after a few days of suffering, it wilted away and was transplanted by a loving Savior in that paradise above where pain and death never come.

EASTLAND.—Strawn was selected for the 1925 convention of the oil belt district of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the concluding meeting of its annual convention here.

EXCEPTIONAL RIDING COMFORT

Owners continue to comment on the marked riding comfort of Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

Increased chassis length, low-swung body and generous seat depth have much to do with this.

Primarily, however, it must be accredited to the greater buoyancy of the new spring equipment. The rear springs are ten inches longer, and underslung.

Hints From a House-Wife's Kitchen Diary

Good Food for Children and Adults

A PRACTICAL ANSWER TO A QUESTIONNAIRE

Some time ago a questionnaire was sent out to housewives in an endeavor to find out how they spent their time. It is to be confessed that in the great majority of cases the inquiry aroused only amused exasperation. Busy! Of course they were busy. Every woman was occupied and they would not take time to answer questions which seemed to lead nowhere.

One woman, however, did take the trouble to fill out the blanks as well as she could and in the space left "observations" said: "As I suppose your object in this investigation is to help women to more leisure by systematizing their work, I wonder you have not asked them what means they have taken to simplify the cleaning-up process after meals. For myself, I am sure I save much time and effort by a judicious choice of cooking utensils."

She was asked for more information on the point she mentioned. Her answer was "enameled ware." This, as easily washed as crockery and practically unbreakable with any kind of care, she had found she could keep spotless and daintily attractive with a minimum of effort. So for once a questionnaire got a practical answer!

A SUBSTANTIAL VEGETABLE DISH THAT'S GOOD

An excellent dish for supper is baked eggplant. Pare the eggplant and cut into small cubes. Put in an enameled ware saucepan with a small quantity of hot water. Cover closely and cook for about twenty minutes. Meanwhile, slice a small onion, very thin, and fry in another saucepan until brown.

When the eggplant is tender, remove from the fire and add to it a teaspoonful of salt, and the juice of a lemon. Then butter an enameled ware bake dish; put in a layer of the eggplant and then one of either cracker dust or breadcrumbs until the dish is full, having the cracker dust on top. Add a few dabs of butter to the top and bake in a moderate oven.

FIGHTERS AND FIGHTERS

NEW YORK.—Harry Wills, negro heavyweight and Bartley Madden are to sign articles today for a 10-round bout that will open the outdoor season at the Queensboro stadium next month.

BOSTON.—Jock Malone, St. Paul middleweight and Augie Ratner, New York, have been matched to meet in a 10-round bout here Saturday night.

Serve in the enameled ware bake dish, which is not only useful in the kitchen but ornamental on your table. Eggplant cooked this way affords a substantial item for your menu.

FOR THE KIDDIES' SUPPER

Children who take cold luncheons to school need hot and hearty food at night. Care, however, should be taken to see that the food is digestible as well as substantial in its nature. One mother, whose three thriving children show her good care, contributes this hint.

Try a vegetable soup made with milk. Cook carrots, potatoes, a little onion and a little turnip all together in an enameled ware saucepan until all are very soft. Rub through a colander, put milk into an enameled ware double boiler. Heat just short of the boiling point and then stir in the pureed vegetables. Cook slowly in the milk until all is smooth. The soup will not be discolored if it is cooked in enameled ware.

Served with toast or oyster crackers, this soup makes a meal in itself. It is very nourishing and will never give even a delicate child the nightmare, which can be so easily acquired from food too rich or heavy.

A HOT DISH FOR A COLD PICNIC

Skating will always hold its own as king of winter sports. Skating picnics are always popular. With vacuum bottles, drinks can be kept so hot that coffee making over a fire is no longer necessary.

A good point, however, is to provide plenty of enameled ware mugs to drink out of. In very good weather metal cups are anything but pleasant and crockery may easily be broken by dropping from chilled fingers.

Should a hot dish, such as baked hash, be desired, cook it in an enameled ware bake dish, cover closely when first taken from the oven and wrap in several newspapers and then in an old blanket or heavy woolen cloth. Guarded this way, it will keep hot for hours.

New York Preacher Lincoln's Double.

The Rev. Lincoln Caswell, pastor of the Cornwell Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church in New York City, not only looks like the Great Emancipator, but has the same lanky build, standing 6 feet 4 inches in height. Like Lincoln he is the enduring friend of the poor people of his parish, giving them hope and encouragement.

Drilling continues at the three wells in the Babette area and at the Webster-Pickens well on the Gibson farm, south of Kernes. The Gibson farm well is reported making a very favorable showing for oil and gas at a depth below 2,100 feet.

Langford & Wertham are bailing the well on the Homer Holmes tract this afternoon. Taylor, et al. will be drilling in soon. The casing was holed and tested Wednesday.

McIntyre has set casing on his Alexander test, casing will be set on the Boyd test within a day or two. John Hooser is bailing on a well on the Hill tract today, and is likely to be completed tonight.

Drilling has been resumed on the test on the Allen tract west of the present big production area. This hole was sunk by the Simms Oil company to a depth of 2,700 feet when work on it was suspended, several weeks ago. The property has been taken over by Garland Kent. The well will be drilled to completion.

TERRELL LADIES HONORED AT DISTRICT MEETING

Miss Lucille Lechner returned from Mexia last night, where she went as a delegate from the Social Science club to the Third District meeting of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs.

Miss Lechner sang Wednesday evening at the First Baptist church in Mexia on the program for the Federation. That is known as "President's Evening." She was the recipient of many compliments on the lovely quality and the wonderful control of her voice.

Miss Lechner also sang for the Rotary club of Mexia Thursday. After her first number the applause continued until she responded with an encore.

Mrs. R. L. Browning of this city, who is state chairman of the information bureau and parliamentarian of the Third district, addressed the Rotary club on "Service." Mrs. Browning and Miss Lechner were introduced by Mrs. Ben Stollenwerck, a former Terrell citizen.

Mrs. Browning and Miss Lechner were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith in their palatial home while in Mexia. Many lovely entertainments were given by the citizens of Mexia honoring the visiting ladies.—Terrell Transcript.

Mrs. C. Felz has returned from Marlin where she has been for several weeks taking the hot baths for rheumatism.

A Check Book Purse.

"Who steals my purse, steals trash," the wonderful Shakespeare wrote, and mankind has repeated ever since the master of words gave the philosophical utterance "Honor," the hard declared was more precious than money—just so no one stole that, there was nothing else mattered much.

That same "Who steals my purse steals trash" can well be exclaimed in business sense.

These days, the sensible man's "Purse" is a check book. Who steals that gets nothing—he can't touch the man's money, safely deposited in our bank.

Texas Folk Lore Society Preserves Legends of State

By FRANCES ETHEL WIFF.
AUSTIN, Texas, April 7.—A meeting of the Folk Lore Society of Texas will be held at the University of Texas, May 2-3, according to an announcement made by the secretary, Prof. J. Frank Dobie, of Oklahoma A. & M. College and formerly of the University of Texas faculty. At this meeting most of the time will be devoted to Texas legends and Texas folk songs. Other papers given by people interested in the work of the society will add variety to the program.

A volume of Texas legends, the third bulletin published by the Folk Lore Society, will soon be off the press. Mr. Dobie is the editor, although others have contributed articles and aided in gathering material.

At present memberships are being solicited from among teachers, students, and Texans who are interested in the work of the society. Any member of the society who pays the dues of $1 will get a copy of the volume of legends free.

The Folk Lore Society was organized at the annual meeting of the Texas State Teachers' Association at Dallas, December, 1909 by Dr. L. W. Payne, professor of English in the University of Texas, and John A. Lomax, secretary of the Ex-students Association, for the purpose of preserving Texas folk lore. There were 66 members enrolled at the first meeting.

After the organization, the first meeting was held at the University of Texas in 1911 with Professor Payne as president. Mr. Lomax was the first secretary and Miss Ethel Hibbs, the first treasurer. At this meeting Prof. Bliss of Harvard University addressed the Folk Lore Society and the University of Texas on "The Short Story"—a topic not far removed from the domains of folk lore.

The second meeting was also held in Austin. The feature of the occasion was a talk given by the Irish folk-loreist, Seumas MacManus. At the third meeting, Prof. George Lyman Kittredge of Harvard University was the principal speaker. During the war meetings were not held. The first bulletin was published in 1916 and the second came out in 1923. Miss Julia Estell, of Fredericksburg, is president of the Folk Lore Society of Texas now.

Charles T. Perkins of Santa Barbara, Cal., is writing a book which will have a circulation of but two copies. It is to be elaborately illustrated by Edward Boerlin, the "cowboy artist." The book, entitled "The Pinto Horse," is to be a Christmas present to the young son of the author and is being written especially for the boy by his father.

The Art Of Beauty

By B. M. DOUGLAS

The American Senorita

SPANISH women are the most beautiful women in the world—so runs the fable. For my part I know that American women are not less beautiful. They seem less beautiful when they do not dress to their type.

Why are our dark American beauties ashamed of their smooth dusky skin and their gleaming black eyes, and straight black hair? I long for a return to the age of the phylloxera when I see one of these rare and lovely creatures ruined by her lack of sartorial imagination. Hair fluffed and dull! Cheeks mottled with pink powder that only serves to make her look untidy.

If you are the Spanish type, rejoice, and make the best of it—a best that is superlative.

Shall I start at the hair or the heels? The heels which should always be high and attractive. The hair which should be always trembling with a desire to dance. The gown, decided in tone, whether it is red and black, or yellow, or green, or black, or white, should be bold and point upwards, to the shoulder. The throat, the proud column on which must be poised with the utmost grace, the vivid head. Practice your poise of the head—you Spanish women of America. And remember that it is the color of your face that makes you Spanish. Your dark smooth skin. To blend with its rich warmth, add the vitality of peaches powder then touch your cheeks with ashes of roses. The subtle deep color will make your eyes brilliant. The light reflected from the bit of coloring doubles the sparkle of the eyes. Use the rouge sparingly in the daytime, lest it look garish and destroy the distinction of the type you represent. A trifle more color at night is absorbed happily. Your hair is important. You must compromise with the ideal of the painter Zuloaga and the demands of the mode. No woman of fashion can afford to ignore either the mode or the natural demands of her own beauty. Wear your hair parted in the center, drawn smoothly down to make a brilliant background for your features. Try to wear it high in back, and in the evening top it triumphantly with a Spanish comb. You may wear jewels artistically on your ears, your throat, your wrists, your fingers. Your vividness permits you a latitude in jewelry prohibited to your fairer sisters.

Inaile Gear in "Poppy"

First Presbyterian Church Crowded Sunday at Opening of the Revival

Dr. John P. Kidd preached to large congregations at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning and evening. The singing under leadership of Mr. Bell was unusually fine. Dr. Kidd's morning subject was "The Mission of the Church." He told of the beginning of the Apostolic Church and the Commission given to it by Christ. "The Disciples were praying when Jesus appeared to them," said Dr. Kidd; "and the conditions of his coming and his power today are the same. Christians must be praying and watching for his coming. As the Father hath sent Me even so have I sent you is still the challenge to the Church." He emphasized the truth that as God depended on Christ, so Christ depends on His people today to preach the Gospel and said that the work of the Christian is very much like the work Christ came to do, and that we have the same authority and the same equipment and the same power for service that He had. At the evening service the evangelist spoke of the Plan of Salvation, speaking of God's part, Christ's part, the Holy Spirit's part and Man's part, emphasizing the fact that Christian work depends largely on Christian

Senator Wheeler Of Montana Is One of Many Self-made Men

By JULIAN STREET

(Copyright, 1924, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Because of his personal qualities, background, history, home life, and recent meteoric rise to national importance, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, 42 years old, and with one exception, youngest of Senators, is the sort of man Booth Tarkington might select as hero for a political novel.

Wheeler is a Yankee of Quaker stock, one of a family of ten children. He went to a public school and business college at Hudson, Mass., his native town, and later worked his way through the law school of the University of Michigan, where he waited on tables and acted as secretary to the dean.

He met his wife who lived on a farm near Albany, Illinois, while he was selling cook books from door to door one summer vacation, but they were not married until several years later when he was established as a lawyer in Butte, Montana. Mrs. Wheeler is a bright, intelligent woman, interested in public affairs and mother of five children, three boys and two girls, the eldest 15 years old, the youngest four.

They live in a simple suburban type of house and Wheeler goes to and from the senate in a street car. He is a figure romantically American. Since 1910 when he was elected to the Montana legislature, he has known steadily the buffetings of politics. In 1922 he was an unsuccessful candidate for the attorney generalship of the state; with the advent of the Wilson administration he became federal district attorney and held the office for five years. A progressive Democrat, he was charged by political enemies with radicalism and neglect of duty during the period of war hysteria, because he failed, as he says, to "enter upon an orgy of indiscriminate prosecution of persons charged often times unjustly with sedition."

His great vindication, however, came from the people of Montana, who sent him to the senate by the largest majority ever given in that state to a Democratic candidate for Senator.

Senator Wheeler has been in Washington about three months and in that time has set a record. The oldest of old-timers agree that no other Senator has got himself before the nation as Wheeler has, in anything like the same space of time.

The ancient, hard-boiled elements of both sides it has been a distinct shock. Indeed, in the palmy days when the hard-shells held complete control, there could not have occurred an explosion such as Wheeler has created, for the rule was that the new Senators for the first two years should sit with folded hands like good little boys at church.

Apostles of Convention in both parties complain that Senator Wheeler's invitation is really a terrible thing. It is bringing out all sorts of matters that by tradition only insiders ought to know. It is emphasizing most unpleasantly a fact first called to the public attention when the scandals concerning ex-secretary Fall were brought to light; namely, that on March 4, 1921, a large number of lame ducks limped into Washington and became highly influential. From my point of view this is not a party matter and from talks with Senator Wheeler, I don't believe that his motives are partisan.

In the Daugherty investigation Senator Wheeler and his committee have labored under enormous difficulties. They have been short of funds and adequate governmental aid and their investigation was directed to the bench of the government best able to resist.

St. Louis is to expend $8,000,000 in new street lighting, said to be the largest amount ever devoted by any one city at any one time to equipment for lighting its streets and public places.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nolan have returned from Wichita Falls where they attended the District Rotary Convention. They report a most enjoyable session. Mrs. Nolan was especially pleased with the addresses by James Heron, of Chicago, who will be heard in Mexia next Thursday evening at the High School auditorium.

SHAWNEE, Kans.—Bandits attempting raid Shawnee business houses and bank driven off after gun battle with residents and officers. Marshal William Smith wounded. Citizens aroused by marshals fight with three auto loads bandits, fired from windows of homes. Bandits escaped with loot.

HER FEET ARE HER FORTUNE

"What is your fortune, my pretty maid?" "My feet are my fortune, sir," she said.

Pretty Miss Effie Smith, right, of New York, pronounced by Dr. William M. Scholl, noted foot orthopedist, as having the most perfect feet he has seen in years, surpassing the feet of the winner of a recent national foot beauty contest. Miss Smith is shown in company with Miss Esolda Kenyon, holding a pedographic imprint of her beautiful feet. This is the first photograph ever taken of a pedographic imprint of a perfect foot and its proud owner. The pedograph reveals how Miss Smith's feet leave the ground entirely, beneath the strong and graceful arch.

DAWES IS SORE AT DELAYS IN MESSAGES

By WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, April 7.—Irritated by delays in submission of the experts' report on the reparations commission, General Charles G. Dawes, chairman of Committee No. 1, today fixed Wednesday as the day for delivery of the reports, barring unforeseen mechanical difficulties.
Dawes presided over a session of the experts this morning and told his associates bluntly that they must finish revamping and translating the report today.
The American plainly was extremely annoyed by the recent delays occasioned by adjusting the language of the French and English texts and kept the committee sitting long after the usual lunch hour.

Although it has been the language difficulty—the retention of the most delicate shades of meaning alike in French and English—that has delayed delivery of the reports the past few days have witnessed a determined struggle within the Dawes committee over reparations figures, the amount Germany is to pay. Some figures were left blank, even in the third proof English text, but now have been filled in.

Three month's plugging is telling physically on the experts. They all show the effects of their efforts.

The document they are about to produce is regarded as without question the most important since the Versailles treaty in its potential effect on the European situation.

BRIDE WATCHED HUSBAND KILL FOR MONEY.

Mrs. Harry Fenton

Greed for money caused Harry Fenton, 21 years old, to murder his landlady, Mrs. Mary Coleman, 60, in her home in New York City, while his 18-year-old bride of a few days, Mary Fenton, looked on. Then he fired the house and made it appear she was burned to death. Later Mrs. Fenton became conscious stricken and confessed. They thought the woman had $5,000 in the house. All Fenton got was $15. Both he and his wife joked to the police as they confessed. At Mrs. Coleman's funeral Fenton and Mrs. Fenton consoled Sister Mary Phillips, a nun, the dead woman's sister, and took her to dinner. Thinking they were her sister's best friends, the religious woman presented them with their victim's furniture.

Fire Wrecks Home of Judge White On North Canton Street Saturday; Fireman Injured Fighting Blaze

Late Saturday afternoon, fire of an unknown origin, broke out in an upstairs room of the home of Judge and Mrs. W. M. White, on North Canton Street. In the heart of a district wherein were located many handsome homes, had a wind been blowing the blaze no doubt would have been very dangerous. At it was the Fire Department was able to keep the fire confined to the one home.

At the time of the fire, Mrs. White was at the First Presbyterian church, where she was assisting in plans for the revival now in progress there. Judge White was in his office and no one was at home.

Two lines were laid and the pump put to work by the fire department, but the water supply was too weak to render effective aid in exterminating the blaze before the home was practically in ruins. The department was praised very highly for its splendid work, with the means and water at hand. One of the firemen, Frank Armstrong, was painfully burned, when a part of the roof fell on him. His co-workers, "Bugs" Thompson rushed to save him, risking his own life in the work, bodily lifted the roof off of him and other firemen assisted in carrying him to safety and to the Kiddle ambulance which was on the scene by the time the injured man had touched the ground. He was carried to the Brown Hospital.

The home contained eleven rooms, halls, porches, two story in height. The day being calm, the smoke shot straight upwards.

Considerable furniture was saved, but many valuable articles were lost which can never be replaced. Judge White, in speaking of the loss, was more concerned over the destruction of portraits of deceased parents and children than anything else. He said that he had no way of replacing these. The fire drew a large crowd, who

Mexia Rotary Club Brings Gifted Speaker To Mexia

Through the efforts of Hardy Eubanks, whose work was approved by the Board of Directors of the Mexia Rotary club, Mexia is next Thursday night to have an opportunity to hear one of the greatest lecturers in America. A contract has been made by the Mexia Rotary club to have him stop off here next Thursday, while he is en route from Houston to Dallas.

The speaker is Rotarian James Heron of Chicago, one of the foremost humorists of the day in this country and a speaker of such ability as to win the unstinted praise of his auditors wherever he goes.

He was speaker on three different occasions at the Wichita Falls District Convention of Rotary last week and won the hearts of Rotarians and their friends who had assembled for the convention from many states of the southwest.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nolan and I. W. Keyes, of this city, who were present with Mr. Eubanks at Wichita Falls, also heard him. They are elated to learn that he is going to be able to be in Mexia Thursday night.

Mr. Eubanks had a conference with Mr. Heron about coming to Mexia. It so happened that Thursday night was the only open date he has on his itinerary for many months and since he will be on his way from Houston to Dallas for an address Friday night at the latter place, it was possible for him to come to Mexia at that time. Mr. Eubanks invited him on the condition that the directors of the club here thought proper for him to deliver his address on that occasion. When the facts were explained to the directors, they unanimously agreed that it would not be right to allow the opportunity to pass without bringing this notable speaker with his soul stirring message to Mexia. It was a case of securing him now or not at all. So he will be here Thursday night. His address will be delivered at the High School auditorium, free to the public. The Mexia Rotary club has planned to take care of the expenses of his trip here and are to give the public the benefit of his message as a part of their educational program. The Nairators club will be given honor seats in the auditorium and everybody is invited most cordially to hear this gifted speaker who will bring one of the most helpful messages the local citizenship has ever heard.

42 PROFESSIONS SUNDAY AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday was a banner day in the history of the Methodists of Mexia. The pastor, Rev. W. B. Andrews, devoted the morning hour to children. At the conclusion of the morning Sunday School lesson, they met in the auditorium of the church, where he told with beautiful simplicity the soul stirring story of the birth of Jesus and His death on the Cross. The young folks without doubt formed as attentive an audience, as Rev. Andrews has ever addressed. At the conclusion of his sermon to them, 42 professions of faith were listed from their number.

In the afternoon, at 3:30, the evangelical committee held a meeting, planning for the revival which is to open in the church next Sunday morning. Rev. Andrews will do the preaching.

In the evening, at 8 o'clock, the pastor preached on the importance of children becoming Christians and joining the church early in life. The importance of proper training was illustrated by a reference to an address made in Mexia during the Federated Clubs convention, when it was stated by a speaker that of all the hundreds of prisoners in Texas penal institutions today, only one of them was a Jew. The speaker at the club assemblage explained that this was due to the home training and church training the Jew receives in childhood.

YONKERS, N. Y., April 7.—George Heroze, 18, picked the wrong man when he selected Michael Zevick, 19, as his first hold-up victim. Zevick took the highwayman's revolver away from him, boxed Heroze's ears and turned him over to a policeman.

SALVATION ARMY CORPS LOOKING FOR HOME FOR FINE BOY

The Salvation Army corps here report that they are looking for a good home for a splendid little four-year-old gentleman. His mother is not able to provide for him and the Salvationists are so anxious that a Christian home be provided for him as soon as possible. He is a very bright little fellow and with the proper home influences and aid, he, no doubt, will develop into a son of which any home would be proud.

Any interested will do a great service by getting in touch with the Mexia Salvation Army corps.

The Salvation Army conducts services each night on the streets and in the hall on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights at 8 o'clock, with Sunday services at 11 o'clock and Sunday School at 2:30 p. m. The corps is doing a wonderful work here, under the unselfish leadership of those in charge, reaching a class who otherwise might not hear the story of salvation, according to directors of the organization in Mexia. To these services, the public is cordially invited.

Round The World Flies Watching For Fair Times

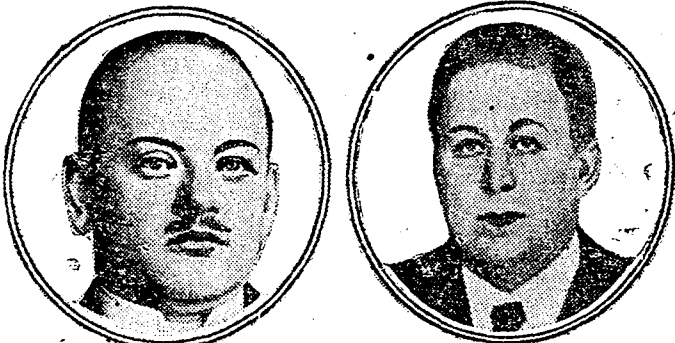

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., April 7.—America's round the world airmen watched the weather today, eager to continue on to Sitka, Alaska, 320 miles to the northward when conditions looked favorable for the flight.

The four planes of the world flight squadron arrived here safely from Seattle Sunday afternoon six days behind the schedule originally planned at Santa Monica, Cal. Early Sunday morning repairs on the propeller of the huge Douglas cruiser piloted by Major Frederick L. Martin, the flight commander, were completed. Martin took the air at 8:35. Lieutenant Eric Nelson at 8:50 and Lieutenant Lowell Smith at 8:55.

Lieutenant Wade, the fourth pilot, had difficulty in getting his plane up, but finally got way, after lightning it.

The flight to Prince Rupert was made through poor weather. It was uneventful, all arriving without difficulty.

OKLAHOMA SOLON TESTIFIES OF SCANDAL IN LAND

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Senator Harrell of Oklahoma told the Senate Daugherty committee that he took a hand in the Miller Brothers Oklahoma land fraud case to prevent a "scandal" when Attorney General Daugherty served notice in August, 1921, that he intended to remove H. M. Peck as United States district attorney in Oklahoma. Before the case came to trial Harrell said he went to Daugherty and told him a scandal would surely result as the case revolved around the alleged procurement by Miller Brothers of 10,000 acres of Indian land valued at $500,000 through fraudulent means.

Former Secretary of the Interior Fall called a halt on the prosecution of Miller Brothers in the Oklahoma land fraud cases in which they were involved, according to a letter introduced in the record of the Senate Daugherty committee, Edwin S. Booth, solicitor for the Interior Department, gave the committee a letter from Fall to Attorney General Daugherty, in which Fall asked a postponement of the action against Miller Brothers until a later term of the Oklahoma court. Two days later, according to testimony, H. M. Peck, then federal district attorney of Oklahoma was ordered by the Department of Justice to postpone the cases.

RIOT FOLLOWS TURNING OF HOSE ON KLANSMEN EN ROUTE TO TRAIN TWO PERSONS KILLED AS RESULT

Former Mexia Men Are Held In Fraud Case

According to press dispatches, charged with conspiracy to carry out a fraudulent scheme to sell stock in the Mogul Oil and Refining Company, capitalized at $1,000,000, five men are under arrest at Houston in connection with an indictment returned a week ago by the Federal grand jury. Four indictments alleging misuse of the mails were returned at the time, and this is the last to be made public. Arrests have already been made in the first three.

The five men arrested are W. M. Blake, president of the Mogul, arrested in Wichita Falls; J. M. Blake, Hunter Blake, H. Truysens and John Gibson. Bonds for Truysens and Gibson have been set at $5,000, for W. M. Blake $10,000, for J. M. Blake, and Hunter Blake $7500 each.

The indictment against the men alleges that they conspired to sell the stock through an agreement with a Chicago and New York brokerage company by the use of false statements.

All three of the Blake's mentioned resided here for many years.

At the regular monthly meeting of Mexia Typographical Union held Sunday afternoon, Major N. P. Houx was elected to represent the union at the county centennial meeting in Groesbeck next Saturday. Other unions and clubs are expected to elect delegates to this meet.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 7.—Twenty seven armed men, asserted to be members of the Klan band which participated in a riot at Lilly Saturday night when two were killed, are under arrest here. The riot started when a group of young men turned a fire hose on the Klansmen marching after a ceremonial at Lilly. The Klansmen opened fire on a crowd of by-standers, and it is alleged that the by-standers returned the fire.

LILLY, Pa., April 7.—State police today were in control of Lilly, following a revolver battle Saturday night between members of the Ku Klux Klan and town folk in which two men were killed and a score injured.

The riot started when a group of young men turned a fire hose on more than 500 Klansmen who were marching to the railroad station after holding a ceremony on Piper Hill. When the water struck the marchers, it is alleged, members of the Klan drew revolvers and fired into the town folk.

Many of the townspeople who were armed, returned the fire. The men on opposing sides who were unarmed used brick and stones for weapons. At the first volley Phillip Conrad, 25, and Floyd Paul, 25, townfolk, were killed.

ELECTION BRINGS OUT LIGHT VOTE

Only a small vote was polled Saturday in the school board election, less than 100 going to the ballot box on that occasion. The four names printed on the ballot, old members of the board, were re-elected. They were Jack Womack, Albert Berry, R. B. Bass and David Murphy. These received all but a few votes that were given to several other citizens.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY CLUBS

Two years ago Judge Cordell Hull, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, had a wonderful vision of what must be done to bring Democratic victory in 1924. He knew we could carry the Nation in November if we made the right kind of fight, but to win on election day an effective organization would be necessary. To wait until after the National ticket had been named would be too late. He had learned from bitter experience that it is next to impossible for the Democrats to elect a President in a two months' campaign. To perfect such an organization required not only hard work, but money and the wolf was at the door of the Democratic National Committee. All that the Chairman had was the "will" which said to him "keep on."

One day, when things looked darkest, a letter came from an old friend up in the mountains of Tennessee which read as follows:

"Dear Cordell: All of us down here are mighty proud to know you are Chairman of the National Committee, and we feel that we will elect a Democrat for President in 1924. I want you to take the enclosed $5 and use every cent of it if necessary. There are a lot more down here who will give $5 too if you need it."

Chairman Hull wired his old mountain friend: "Organize your neighbors into a Democratic Victory Club."

In two weeks' time he received $95 from 19 other Democrats who contributed $5 each. This is how the "National Democratic Victory Club" idea originated.

Today there are Victory Clubs in thirty states. Each member pays $5 dues. The money is being used for a comprehensive campaign of education and organization throughout the country.

It is the intention of the national headquarters to keep in touch with the Victory Club members, supplying them individually with up-to-date political facts and literature. Chairman Hull has other plans, not yet thoroughly worked out, by which he expects to cooperate with and use the organization. He believes that a Democrat can do his party no greater service than to join a Victory Club and make it possible for us to say truthfully that the party of the people is sustained by the people and not by privileged interests.

Dr. R. B. Jackson is President of the Victory Club in Mexia and he invites all good Democrats who want to have a part in and invest as much as $5 in national Democratic victory to communicate with him. Later on the full roster of the organization will be given.

AMERICANIZATION APPLIED

By MRS ALEXANDER L. ADAMS
(Before Third District Federation Convention.)

The magnitude of the term "Americanization" was not fully appreciated, nor the necessity of its real meaning fully established in the minds and hearts of Americans, was not so keenly felt until that great catastrophe, the World War, brought forward realization of the fact that Americans had been so little concerned in the foreigner within our gates that numbers of men had lived in our America for half a century without citizenship. Until the War it had seemed sufficient to teach respect for the flag, to have a few addresses of a patriotic nature on Fourth of July and Election year—perhaps. But during and since the war concerted effort has been made along all lines of citizenship.

The Division of Americanization of which I am chairman in Texas, was established in National Federation in 1920. We feel the first thing necessary is to sell America to Americans. Our citizenship should mean so much to native Americans that our foreigners shall feel that "that is the kind of American I wish to be." They come to us with anticipations of the freedom, the opportunities of our country. They find us so indifferent that they lose their enthusiasm, segregate themselves in communities, and lapse into their former lives. We have ourselves only to blame for the attitude of our foreign born. And our first duty to ourselves and to them is proper immigration laws, and then proper enforcement.

Observing July the Fourth, the Citizenship Day which was established as such by our own Mrs. Pennybacker, National Chairman, I urge you delegates to go home inspired to have at least one Americanization Day program in your club year work. Establish "Citizenship Week" in your community.

Our Federation is pledged to peace and is working for peace. Encouraging peaceful pursuits and educational efforts, each club should see to it that one Peace program is embodied in their years work.

The strongest efforts for permanent peace are made by establishing schools for foreigners. Giving information necessary for examination for examination for citizenship creates a desire for naturalization. In this we have the cooperation of the Federal Naturalization department. Text books and materials are furnished free to any organization where pupils wish to study. Nine schools are established or are in the process of being established in Texas. Material may be secured through the District Chairman. In each community there are at least a few men and women who have not been naturalized. Let's make an effort for citizenship in Texas this year by urging our foreigners who are here by invitation to become Americans.

Our 3% restricted Immigration Law will be effective only until June. Let us interest ourselves in the bills now pending in Washington and use our influence restricting laws until our foreign population is assimilated.

I will not bore you with figures but we should realize that the foreign in South Texas and in all parts of Texas is increasing and we should give our best efforts to this question of immigration.

Through A Woman's Eyes

A woman is only as old as she looks but a man is old when he stops looking, laughingly said Edna Wallace Hopper, world famous actress speaking recently on the wonderful system of rejuvenation which at a grandmother's age has restored her to the beauty and charm of a girl of 20.

"A fountain of youth such as Ponce De Leon never dreamed of is at the command of every woman of advanced years," according to Miss Hopper.

"The recent famous film of rejuvenation 'Black Oxen' is not overdrawn. Women of 60 or even more advanced years can now be as youthful and charming as they were at twenty. Women who have lost interest in life, as well as those whose husband's love has wandered to more youthful and charming women, can now regain both by the new method of rejuvenation.

"Today I am the living exponent of rejuvenation. I have the pleasure of being thought at least 20. I am still at the height of my career playing young girl parts. School boys flirt with me on the street and I feel and look as young as when David Belasco made me a star at the age of 18, and that was many years ago.

"Most women of advanced years have a far better chance of doing what I have done. I have traveled constantly all my life. Most women enjoy the secluded atmosphere of home life. They can better take the means to regain their youthful charm than one who lives on trains and in hotels.

"There is no need for mature women now to envy youth and beauty. There are now at her command. She can now contend with her granddaughter for the interest and admiration of any man. We are living in an age of marvels but the greatest of all is woman's ability to be forever young and beautiful."

CAUSE AND EFFECT

(To my friend, Ben Hunt, the following lines are affectionately dedicated.)

There is a young man in Mexia,
Poetically inclined, I hear;
When the grass peeps out and wild onions sprout
He invites the muse to appear
And attune his musical ear
To glingling of words with songs of the birds,
Truly harmonious to hear.

Now I've heard it expressed before
That when eagles begin to soar
Bats, owls and things should fold their wings
And hide till the soaring is o'er,
But the air's so balmy and clear
I'll suppress all feeling of fear,
Take one little whirl, announce to the world
The few following words of cheer:

Both far and near we daily hear
Challenges of old chancieeer,
Sending his warning at dawn of the morning
To others who would interfere,
Birds are warbling, the gobblers are gobbling,
All the trees are donning their green,
All Nature's "tuned in" with this cheerful din;
No doubt something's happened I ween.
What's the matter with the poet?
It is something, and you know it.

Reasons he's so jolly ('tis plain, by golly),
Are vari'd, numerous, yes many,
But the prime cause is plain; hear the refrain:
"Spring time has come, gentle Annie!"

The Art Of Beauty

By B. M. DOUGLAS

The Sparkling Blonde

THE blonde type is the active type, say anthropological experts. The blonde Roosevelt is the go-getter of the world. They are not the somber introspective, nor the languorous sensuous beauties that one finds among the dark haired types. And their gay electric charm proves irresistible to men of many moods and types. The active blonde will cut her hair according to the latest whim of fashion. She will stuff it out because it is as active as she is. Her skin is dazzlingly brilliant and to blend with it she finds the naturelle shade of powder most suitable. She uses Mandarine with its orange tone to give a piquant color to her cheeks and bring a sparkle to the high powered beam of her eyes. Her lips, small and well turned she emphasizes with a matching lipstick. Her clothes can be extreme. Whatever type she chooses, she may wear the extreme manifestation of it. If she wears a period frock of the Renaissance period, it may be more elaborately decorated than others; if she chooses to dine in a sheathed Egyptian gown, it can be straight in line and more vividly colored than her more statuesque sisters dare to wear. She is the spoiled child of the fashion world; because her coloring is so dazzling that she dominates her gowns and is never submerged by them.

The sparkling blonde is a modern incarnation of those fascinating French beauties who live today only in the pages of dusty chronicles—and yet whose names still have the power to conjure up a vision of their charms—Manon Lescaut, Gabrielle d'Estrees, Madame Recamier, whose allure was not so much in the regularity of their features, as in the radiant delicacy of their complexions, their netism which radiated from them. Sparkling blonde if she desires to But—and how simple life would preserve the delicate transparency be if it were not for that little of her skin.

word, by the same token the sparkling blonde must be scrupulously careful about the cosmetics which she uses that these be delicately and carefully made. She will do her beauty shopping carefully and with discrimination. She will choose, for instance, French hand made powders and rouges, because she knows that they are free from grit or roughness and much more delicately blended and perfumed than the machine made compacts. In a word, in all her adjuncts to beauty, she chooses the best, and uses it with a deft touch. The "scrubbing" with a powder rag or puff adopted by some women is not for the sparkling blonde if she desires to But—and how simple life would preserve the delicate transparency be if it were not for that little of her skin.

BURKETT SPEAKING IN CITY POSTPONED

Senator Joe Burkett will not be here tonight. This announcement was made to The News this morning by telephone from Senator W. E. Doyle of Teague. Mr. Doyle stated that Mr. Burkett would speak at Fairfield today and would make arrangements to deliver an address in Mexia at some later date. Mr. Burkett is one of ten candidates for Governor of Texas, whose candidacy will be submitted to the Democratic primaries.

AUXILIARY TO SERVE LEGION TUESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Z. Rochelle, president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Nowlin Post of the American Legion, states that the Auxiliary will serve the regular weekly dinner to the Post Tuesday evening at 7:30. The meeting of last week was called off on account of the Federated club meeting here. It is hoped that a large attendance will be present at Nowlin hall.

The host of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Jordan of this city will be so glad to learn that she is getting along nicely at present and general hope prevails that she will soon be out again. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan have the sympathy of the entire community in their recent great bereavement when they sustained the loss of their week old infant son, Roy, Jr. Every effort was made to keep the little flower blooming in the garden of child life, but after a few days of suffering, it wilted away and was transplanted by a loving Savior in that paradise above where pain and death never come.

EASTLAND.—Strawn was selected for the 1925 convention of the oil belt district of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the concluding meeting of its annual convention here.

EXCEPTIONAL RIDING COMFORT

Owners continue to comment on the marked riding comfort of Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

Increased chassis length, low-sprung body and generous seat depth have much to do with this.

Primarily, however, it must be accredited to the greater buoyancy of the new spring equipment. The rear springs are ten inches longer, and underslung.

Hints From a House-Wife's Kitchen Diary

Good Food for Children and Adults

A PRACTICAL ANSWER TO A QUESTIONNAIRE

Some time ago a questionnaire was sent out to housewives in an endeavor to find out how they spent their time. It is to be confessed that in the great majority of cases the inquiry aroused only amused exasperation. Busy! Of course they were busy. Every woman was occupied and they would not take time to answer questions which seemed to lead nowhere.

One woman, however, did take the trouble to fill out the blanks as well as she could and in the space left "observations" said: "As I suppose your object in this investigation is to help women to more leisure by systematizing their work, I wonder you have not asked them what means they have taken to simplify the cleaning-up process after meals. For myself, I am sure I save much time and effort by a judicious choice of cooking utensils."

She was asked for more information on the point she mentioned. Her answer was "enameled ware." This, as easily washed as crockery and practically unbreakable with any kind of care, she had found she could keep spotless and daintily attractive with a minimum of effort. So for once a questionnaire got a practical answer!

A SUBSTANTIAL VEGETABLE DISH THAT'S GOOD

An excellent dish for supper is baked eggplant. Pare the eggplant and cut into small cubes. Put in an enameled ware saucepan with a small quantity of hot water. Cover closely and cook for about twenty minutes. Meanwhile, slice a small onion, very thin, and fry in another saucepan until brown.

When the eggplant is tender, remove from the fire and add to it the browned onions, half a teaspoonful of salt, and the juice of a lemon. Then butter an enameled ware bake dish; put in a layer of the eggplant and then one of either cracker dust or breadcrumbs until the dish is full, having the cracker dust on top. Add a few dabs of butter to the top and bake in a moderate oven.

FIGHTERS AND FIGHTERS

NEW YORK.—Harry Wills, negro heavyweight and Bartley Madden are to sign articles today for a 10-round bout that will open the outdoor season at the Queensboro stadium next month.

BOSTON.—Jock Malone, St. Paul middleweight and Augie Ratner, New York, have been matched to meet in a 10-round bout here Saturday night.

Serve in the enameled ware bake dish, which is not only useful in the kitchen but ornamental on your table. Eggplant cooked this way affords a substantial item for your menu.

FOR THE KIDDIES' SUPPER

Children who take cold luncheons to school need hot and hearty food at night. Care, however, should be taken to see that the food is digestible as well as substantial in its nature. One mother, whose three thriving children show her good care, contributes this hint. Try a vegetable soup made with milk. Cook carrots, potatoes, a little onion and a little turnip all together in an enameled ware saucepan until all are very soft. Rub through a colander. Put milk into an enameled ware double boiler. Heat just short of the boiling point and then stir in the pureed vegetables. Cook slowly in the milk until all is smooth. The soup will not be discolored if it is cooked in enameled ware.

Served with toast or oyster crackers, this soup makes a meal in itself. It is very nourishing and will never give even a delicate child the nightmare, which can be so easily acquired from food too rich or heavy.

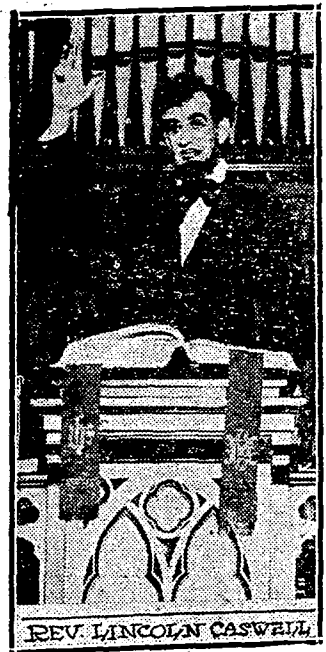

A HOT DISH FOR A COLD PICNIC

Skating will always hold its own as king of winter sports. Skating picnics are always popular. With vacuum bottles, drinks can be kept so hot that coffee making over a fire is no longer necessary.

A good point, however, is to provide plenty of enameled ware mugs to drink out of. In very good weather metal cups are anything but pleasant and crockery may easily be broken by dropping from chilled fingers.

Should a hot dish, such as baked hash, be desired, cook it in an enameled ware bake dish, cover closely when first taken from the oven and wrap in several newspapers and then in an old blanket or heavy woolen cloth. Guarded this way, it will keep hot for hours.

A Check Book Purse.

"Who steals my purse, steals trash," the wonderful Shakespeare wrote, and mankind has repeated ever since the master of words gave the philosophical utterance. "Honor," the bard declared was more precious than money—just so no one stole that, there was nothing else mattered much.

That same "Who steals my purse steals trash" can well be exclaimed in business sense.

These days, the sensible man's "Purse" is a check book. Who steals that gets nothing—he can't touch the man's money, safely deposited in our bank.

Texas Folk Lore Society Preserves Legends of State

By FRANCES ETHEL WIPFF
AUSTIN, Texas, April 7.—A meeting of the Folk Lore Society of Texas will be held at the University of Texas, May 2-3, according to an announcement made by the secretary, Prof. J. Frank Dobie, of Oklahoma A. & M. College and formerly of the University of Texas faculty. At this meeting most of the time will be devoted to Texas legends and Texas folk songs. Other papers given by people interested in the work of the society will add variety to the program.

A volume of Texas legends, the third bulletin published by the Folk Lore Society, will soon be off the press. Mr. Dobie is the editor, although others have contributed articles and aided in gathering material.

At present memberships are being solicited from among teachers, students, and Texans who are interested in the work of the society. Any member of the society who pays the dues of $1 will get a copy of the volume of legends free.

The Folk Lore Society was organized at the annual meeting of the Texas State Teachers' Association at Dallas, December, 1909 by Dr. L. W. Payne, professor of English in the University of Texas, and John A. Lomax, secretary of the Ex-students Association, for the purpose of preserving Texas folk lore. There were 66 members enrolled at the first meeting.

After the organization, the first meeting was held at the University of Texas in 1911 with Professor Payne as president. Mr. Lomax was the first secretary and Miss Ethel Hibbs, the first treasurer. At this meeting Prof. Bliss of Harvard University addressed the Folk Lore Society and the University of Texas on "The Short Story"—a topic not far removed from the domains of folk lore.

The second meeting was also held in Austin. The feature of the occasion was a talk given by the Irish folk-loreist, Seumas MacManus. At the third meeting, Prof. George Lyman Kittredge of Harvard University was the principal speaker. During the war meetings were not held. The first bulletin was published in 1916 and the second came out in 1923. Miss Julia Estell, of Fredericksburg, is president of the Folk Lore Society of Texas now.

Charles T. Perkins of Santa Barbara, Cal., is writing a book which will have a circulation of but two copies. It is to be elaborately illustrated by Edward Boerin, the "cowboy artist." The book, entitled "The Pinto Horse," is to be a Christmas present to the young son of the author and is being written especially for the boy by his father.

The Art Of Beauty

By R. M. DOUGLAS

The American Senorita

SPANISH women are the most beautiful women in the world—so runs the fable. For my part I know that American women are not less beautiful. They seem less beautiful when they do not dress to their type.

Why are our dark American beauties ashamed of their smooth dusky skin and their gleaming black eyes, and straight black hair? I long for a return to the age of the poplery when I see one of these rare and lovely creatures ruined by her lack of sartorial imagination. Hair suffed and dull! Cheeks mottled with pink powder that only serves to make her look untidy.

If you are the Spanish type, rejoice, and make the best of it—a best that is superlative.

Shall I start at the hair or the heels? The heels which should always be high and attractive. The hem which should be always trembling with a desire to dance. The gown—decided in tone, whether it is red and black, or yellow, or green, or black and white, should be bold and point upwards, to the shoulder. The throat, the proud column on which must be poised with the utmost grace, the vivid head. Practice your poise of the head—you Spanish women of America. And remember that it is the color of your face that makes you Spanish. Your dark smooth skin. To blend with its rich warmth, add the vitality color of peaches powder then touch your cheeks with ashes of roses. The subtle deep color will make your eyes brilliant. The light reflected from the bit of coloring doubles the sparkle of the eyes. Use the rouge sparingly in the daytime, lest it look garish and destroy the distinction of the type you represent. A trifle more color at night is absorbed happily. Your hair is important. You must compromise with the ideal of the painter Zuloaga and the demands of the mode. No woman of fashion can afford to ignore either the mode or the natural demands of her own beauty. Wear your hair parted in the center, drawn smoothly down to make a brilliant background for your features. Try to wear it high in back, and in the evening top it triumphantly with a Spanish comb. You may wear jewels artistically on your ears, your throat, your wrists, your fingers. Your vividness permits you a latitude in jewelry prohibited to your fairer sisters.

First Presbyterian Church Crowded Sunday at Opening of the Revival

Dr. John P. Kidd preached to large congregations at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning and evening. The singing under leadership of Mr. Bell was unusually fine.

Dr. Kidd's morning subject was "The Mission of the Church." He told of the beginning of the Apostolic Church and the Commission given to it by Christ. "The Disciples were playing when Jesus appeared to them," said Dr. Kidd; "and the conditions of his coming and his power today are the same. Christians must be praying and watching for his coming. As the Father hath sent Me even so have I sent you is still the challenge to the Church."

He emphasized the truth that as God depended on Christ, so Christ depends on His people today to preach the Gospel and said that the work of the Christian is very much like the work Christ came to do, and that we have the same authority and the same equipment and the same power for service that He had.

At the evening service the evangelist spoke of the Plan of Salvation, speaking of God's part, Christ's part, the Holy Spirit's part and Man's part, emphasizing the fact that Christian work depends largely on Christian

Senator Wheeler Of Montana Is One of Many Self-made Men

By JULIAN STREET
(Copyright, 1924, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Because of his personal qualities, background, history, home life, and recent meteoric rise to national importance, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, 42 years old, and with one exception, youngest of Senators, is the sort of man Booth Tarkington might select as hero for a political novel.

Wheeler is a Yankee of Quaker stock, one of a family of ten children. He went to a public school and business college at Hudson, Mass., his native town, and later worked his way through the law school of the University of Michigan, where he waited on tables and acted as secretary to the dean.

He met his wife who lived on a farm near Albany, Illinois, while he was selling cook books from door to door one summer vacation, but they were not married until several years later when he was established as a lawyer in Butte, Montana. Mrs. Wheeler is a bright, intelligent woman, interested in public affairs and mother of five children, three boys and two girls, the oldest 15 years old, the youngest four.

They live in a simple suburban type of house and Wheeler goes to and from the senate in a street car. He is a figure romantically American. Since 1910 when he was elected to the Montana legislature, he has known steadily the buffeting of politics. In 1922 he was an unsuccessful candidate for the attorney generalship of the state; with the advent of the Wilson administration he became federal district attorney and held the office for five years. A progressive Democrat, he was charged by political enemies with radicalism and neglect of duty during the period of war hysteria, because he failed, as he says, to "enter upon an orgy of indiscriminate prosecution of persons charged often times unjustly with sedition."

His great vindication, however, came from the people of Montana, who sent him to the senate by the largest majority ever given in that state to a Democratic candidate for Senator.

Senator Wheeler has been in Washington about three months and in that time has set a record. The oldest of old-timers agree that no other Senator has got himself before the nation as Wheeler has, in anything like the same space of time.

The ancient, hard-boiled elements of both sides it has been a distinct shock. Indeed, in the palmy days when the hard-shells held complete control, there could not have occurred an explosion such as Wheeler has created, for the rule was that the new Senators for the first two years should sit with folded hands like good little boys at church.

Apostles of Convention in both parties complain that Senator Wheeler's invitation is really a terrible thing. It is bringing out all sorts of matters that by tradition only insiders ought to know. It is emphasizing most unpleasantly a fact first called to the public attention when the scandals concerning ex-secretary Fall were brought to light; namely, that on March 4, 1921, a large number of lame ducks limped into Washington and became highly influential. From my point of view this is not a party matter and from talks with Senator Wheeler, I don't believe that his motives are partisan.

In the Daugherty investigation Senator Wheeler and his committee have labored under enormous difficulties. They have been short of funds and adequate governmental aid and their investigation was directed to the branch of the government best able to resist.

St. Louis is to expend $8,000,000 in new street lighting, said to be the largest amount ever devoted by any one city at any one time to equipment for lighting its streets and public places.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nolan have returned from Wichita Falls where they attended the District Rotary Convention. They report a most enjoyable session. Mrs. Nolan was especially pleased with the addresses by James Heron, of Chicago, who will be heard in Mexia next Thursday evening at the High School auditorium.

HER FEET ARE HER FORTUNE

"What is your fortune, my pretty maid?"
"My feet are my fortune, sir," she said.

Pretty Miss Effie Smith, right, of New York, pronounced by Dr. William M. Scholl, noted foot orthopedist, as having the most perfect feet he has seen in years, surpassing the feet of the winner of a recent national foot beauty contest. Miss Smith is shown in company with Miss Esolda Kervin, holding a pedographic imprint of her beautiful feet. This is the first photograph ever taken of a pedographic imprint of a perfect foot and its proud owner. The pedograph reveals how Miss Smith's feet leave the ground entirely, beneath the strong and graceful arch.

All domestic pigeons are descended from one species, the Blue Rock. Salt Lake City was found to be com. There are now 50 different varieties.

DAWES IS SORE AT DELAYS IN MESSAGES

By WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, April 7.—Irritated by delays in submission of the experts report on the reparations commission, General Charles G. Dawes, chairman of Committee No. 1, today fixed Wednesday as the day for delivery of the reports, barring unforeseen mechanical difficulties.

Dawes presided over a session of the experts this morning and told his associates bluntly that they must finish reworking and translating the report today.

Hitchcock to Captain Olympic Polo Team.

TOMMY HITCHCOCK, JR.

Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., of New York, member of the American polo team that holds the world's championship, regarded as one of the greatest and most daring players who ever lived, has been selected to captain the American polo team that will take part in the Olympic Games in Paris. "Tommy" Hitchcock, while a youth in his teens, was a daring American aviator in the World War, being shot down behind the German lines, but escaping from a German prison and rejoining the Air Service.

the committee sitting long after the usual lunch hour.

Although it has been the language difficulty—the retention of the most delicate shades of meaning alike in French and English—that has delayed delivery of the reports the past few days have witnessed a determined struggle within the Dawes committee over reparations figures, the amount Germany is to pay. Some figures were left blank, even in the third proof English text, but now have been filled in.

Three month's plugging is telling physically on the experts. They all show the effects of their efforts.

The document they are about to produce is regarded as without question the most important since the Versailles treaty in its potential effect on the European situation.

All Fenton got was $15. Both he and his wife joked to the police as they confessed. At Mrs. Coleman's funeral Fenton and Mrs. Fenton consoled Sister Mary Phillips, a nun, the dead woman's sister, and took her to dinner. Thinking they were her sister's best friends, the religious woman presented them with their victim's furniture.
